Announcement

Sixteen of Indiana's leading breeders of Shorthorns, realizing that the public will appraise the merit of their cattle by the specimens offered at public auction, have consigned to this sale cattle that are fairly representative of their respective herds. This means that this is the best lot of cattle to have been sold in a consignment sale in this state in many years.

Now is the time to start herds of Shorthorns and to strengthen existing herds. Abundant crops, reasonably low prices for feed and forage, improving general business conditions, replenishment of commercial herds, all point to renewed interest in and a better market for pure bred cattle.

This sale offers an unusual opportunity to secure the best of breeding stock, both males and females. The nineteen bulls listed in this catalog are all good ones. Many of them have won substantially at fairs and shows and can win again. All of them are from first class ancestry and will make impressive herd bulls. The twenty-seven females are of the best sort for founding successful herds and many of them can be shown with assurance of success.

Indiana is one of the best Shorthorn States. Its leading herds have been producing and are producing many of the most prominent winners at our largest shows and fairs. These breeders are consignors to this sale. Those consignors who have not engaged in showing, have drawn heavily upon the blood of these champions and throughout the entire sale will be found excellence of type and quality produced by the use of the best blood of the breed.

I have inspected the cattle that are to be consigned and I know them to be much better than those that have been sold at other consignment sales in Indiana in recent years and can recommend them highly for use in building successful Shorthorn herds.—Will Johnson of The Shorthorn World.

Vigilance—Is a rich roan, exceptionally short legged and blocky, with an imposing head on a short neck with a good crest. He won first prize at Parke County Fair this year and will be a great future show bull if fitted. Cedar Brook Vigilance was first prize and junior champion of Canadian Royal Show at Toronto as a calf. Edgcote Hero was shown extensively for several years without defeat. Victoria Choice is as good a cow as one will see in many days of travel. She is an ideal Shorthorn in type, has an attractive head, and a good udder and ideal red roan color.

One of T. Dorsey Jones' first prize gets-of-sire at the International Stock Show. This get has been called the best ever exhibited. They were sired by Browndale Pilot 1653006. Below is a grand young herd bull prospect by the sire of this unsurpassable group.

Browndale Quarterstaff 1928643—This outstanding young bull from one of America's best producers of her sires is a real attraction to this sale. His sire is too well known to need discussion. His dam is a rich, red roan, as short legged and blocky as any cow in this famous herd. With this pedigree and his excellent type and quality, Browndale Quarterstaff should prove to be one of Browndale Pilot's best breeding sons.
